MR. MCKINNEY: For the record,

Mr. Geyer and I have discussed two of our potential witnesses and their testimony at this trial.

Mr. Geyer has graciously offered to enter into a stipulation that these two witnesses,

Gerald Rumpke (phonetic) and a Robert DeClark (phoentic), named on our witness list; that if they were called at this proceeding, they would testify that while employed at Bill's Suburban, they received during the years of '96 and '97, partial payment for their wages in check and cash, and that stipulation would be that that would be their testimony had they appeared here today, or at this trial.

THE COURT: The agreement,

Mr. Geyer?

MR. GEYER: One second, your Honor, I'm just writing it down completely.

While employed at Bill's Suburban, for the years 1996 and 1997, Gerald Rumpke and Robert DeClark at one time or another were paid in cash, in addition to being paid in check.
